

TRIPLE HOLIDAY A POPULAR MOVEMENT

Merchants and Manufacturers From All Over the City Will Give Their Employees a Three-Day Fourth of July Vacation.

POST-DISPATCH IDEA IS SUCCESSFUL

By the decision of the leading dry goods and department store managers, and the big clothing men, several thousands of employees in those establishments are today rejoicing. They will enjoy a three days' holiday.

At noon today the Famous, Browning, King & Co., F. W. Humphrey Clothing Co. and the Good Luck store, Schmitz & Shroder, decided to close their stores from Thursday night until Monday morning in conformity with the general movement toward a general closing of business on Saturday as well as on the Fourth. It is more than probable that all the other stores engaged in this line of business will do likewise. It is becoming more apparent every day that there will be no opportunity to do business on Saturday except in the most limited way, and as this becomes more apparent merchants are seeing the value they will receive from the recuperated force which their employees will return to them in return for their holiday.

All the big retail dry goods stores will be closed for the three days' holiday. An agreement has been reached and signed by all the big stores to that effect. Following is the agreement:

DRY GOODS STORES TO CLOSE.
We, the undersigned, retail dry goods merchants of St. Louis, mutually agree to close our respective places of business on Saturday, July 6, thus giving our employees three days' rest:
William Barr Dry Goods Co., George M. Wright, manager and treasurer.
Scruggs-Vandevort & Barney Dry Goods Co., Hanford Crawford.
B. Nugent & Bro. Dry Goods Co., by Dan C. Nugent, first vice-president.
Stix, Barr & Fuller.
The Meyer Store.
D. Crawford & Co.
Penny & Gentiles.
It was specified in this agreement that it should be inoperative unless all the principal retail dry goods houses closed. As all of them have agreed, the agreement has become of full effect.

It has been the custom of mayors of the city to annually proclaim a public holiday on the Fourth of July.

This year it is announced that no such proclamation will be necessary on account of the peculiar conditions. Only once in seven years does there come to the great laboring class an opportunity such as is presented this year, the Fourth falling on Friday, thus rendering Saturday practically inoperative for business purposes and permitting employees to give their workers an unusual holiday of three days.

The movement, started by the Post-Dispatch among employers to avail themselves of the privilege, is meeting with unusual success.

HAPPY EMPLOYEES.
The idea has taken hold of employers with great force, and every day sees more enrolling themselves among the generous.

On the other hand, the employees appreciate the sacrifice entailed by the employers in many instances in closing their business on what is considered the best trade day of the week.

It is urged, however, that there will be little business done in the heart of the town on Saturday whether or not the stores are closed, for the reason that so many employees of factories and clerks in offices will close on that day.

It is reasonably certain that on Saturday the downtown streets will be deserted by all save holiday seekers and merry makers.

The majority of the people will take advantage of the three days to seek rest in their homes, at the parks or in the country.

Work at the World's Fair grounds will be entirely suspended, releasing from toll thousands of men for three days.

The three building contractors at work on the ground, John J. Dunnivant & Co., the Goldie Construction Co., and the Rountree Construction Co., have agreed to pursue this course. Their men will be paid on Thursday night and will not be required to put in an appearance again until Monday morning.

"We would, at best, work only four hours on Saturday," said Sup. Stokes of Dunnivant & Co. "If we decided to work of Saturday probably not over half of our carpenters would report for duty. This affords the only chance that we can see for getting any holiday this summer, which will be an unusually busy one for everybody."

All the contractors have agreed to leave on the work a special force of watchmen who will patrol the site during the three days to guard the buildings against the dangers contingent to the celebration of the nation's birthday.

LIST OF HOUSES.
Most if not all of the big wholesale houses in all lines will not be open for business on the three days.

Those who have signified their willingness to give their employees a holiday are:

POLICE BOARD DECIDES AGAINST THE FIGHTERS

Circuit Attorney Folk Declares Corbett-Sullivan Proposed "Boxing Contest" a Prizefight--Haughton Defends the "Fugs."

PUBLIC ADMITTED TO THE TRIAL

The Board of Police Commissioners decided this afternoon to not permit the Corbett-Sullivan championship contest.

The decision was reached in less than thirty minutes after all the evidence was in and the Board instructed Chief Kiely to not permit the fight.

President Hawes of the board said after the meeting that this order did not apply to future "boxing contests" which the West End Club might arrange as permitted by law, but that the evidence showed the Corbett-Sullivan preparations to be for a prize fight.

What might be termed the case of "the people versus the pugilists" was tried by the Board of Police Commissioners, sitting on open session this morning, with Circuit Attorney Folk representing the people and President Haughton of the West End Physical Club defending the pugilists.

The trials resulted from Folk's letter of yesterday--prompted by Rev. Dr. W. W. Boyd to Chief Kiely, calling upon this official to prevent the "boxing contest" advertised to take place between "Young Corbett" and Dave Sullivan in the West End Physical Culture Club's coliseum, Olive street and Channing avenue, Thursday night.

DR. BOYD ON HAND.
Rev. Dr. Willard W. Boyd, at the head of a delegation from the citizens' committee, was the first to reach the Four Courts.

With Dr. Boyd were Charles Parsons, Capt. W. H. Bamford, W. H. Temple, William H. Lee, Rev. Dr. C. H. Patton, C. H. Udell and O. H. Whitelaw.

These gentlemen arrived a few minutes in advance of President Charles H. Haughton of the West End Club.

Mr. Haughton was accompanied by his retinue of assistants, William L. Shelby, doorkeeper; Joseph J. Walsh, ticket taker; W. H. Meer, treasurer, and James Smith, vice-president.

Mr. Haughton did not have any of the fighters with him.

Inquiries were made about the pugilists, but Mr. Haughton said they would not appear.

President Hawes of the Police Board and Commissioner Ballard entered the building by different entrances and hurried into the board room. The outer door was locked, and Secretary Ward was instructed to allow no one in the room save the commissioners, Circuit Attorney Folk and the city clerk.

BOYD TALKS TO HAUGHTON.
Rev. Dr. Boyd and President Haughton met in the Four Courts corridor and held a pleasant talk.

Chief Kiely approached the group and told Dr. Boyd that the meeting of the board was to be an executive meeting and that he would not be needed. Dr. Boyd and his followers at once withdrew.

At 1:15 o'clock President Hawes notified the members of the press that the door would be opened to the press and a few minutes later the reporters were admitted.

It was 1:30 o'clock when the meeting was called to order. The full board was present. Mr. Hornby, the acting mayor, occupied Mrs. Wells' chair.

AN OPEN SESSION.
Mr. Haughton and his attorney, T. B. Estep, were admitted to the room.

President Hawes said that the meeting was a special meeting, called because of the letter written yesterday by Mr. Folk to Chief Kiely. He said that the letter had appeared in the newspapers, and that it would not be necessary to read it again.

Because of the great interest in the case he said he had asked the other commissioners to allow the newspaper representation at the meeting, and that they had complied with his request.

"We will permit everybody who wishes to testify," said Mr. Hawes. "To enter the room and be heard. But we want no speeches and protests unless there be evidence that such persons wish to present. Those persons interested in the bringing of the contest will also be admitted and heard."

President Hawes explained that Mr. Folk had been requested to be present, and Mr. Folk was called upon to explain his position.

MR. FOLK'S SPEECH.
"I am here," began Mr. Folk, "not as a prosecuting attorney, but because I have been invited by the board to explain my position. I appear here as the prosecuting officer and as the one in charge of the grand jury. It is my duty to prosecute all felonies."

"This proposed contest is for $500, and as such, is a felony. Seats are sold to the public generally, at prices ranging from $10 down to $2."

"Sometime ago Chief Kiely advised with me about these contests, and they were stopped then. Afterward he said that there was a change, and that there was reorganization. It became a so-called club. Persons are given a slip of paper at one window and then they go to another window and pay the price demanded for a ticket to witness the contest. This cannot constitute a club. A man cannot become a member for one night."

"Section 213 makes it a felony for any person to aid or abet in a prize fight, punishable by from two to ten years in the penitentiary."

"This is a fight for a prize of $500, and it cannot be termed a sparring or boxing contest. It is a felony and not a misdemeanor, and it is my duty to take action in the premises."

WHY IT'S A FELONY.
Mr. Hawes asked Mr. Folk as the latter finished speaking:

"Then, Mr. Folk, you draw a distinction in a general way between a prizefight and a sparring contest?"

"No."

Folk's reply, "Because this is a prizefight, and because it is a felony, and because my jurisdiction is over felonies."

"What is the difference between a prizefight and a sparring exhibition?" asked Commissioner Fyfe of Mr. Folk.

"A prizefight means a fight for a prize," said Mr. Folk. "A fight for any sum of money, be it $500 or any other sum."

Acting Mayor Hornby asked:

"In view of the fact that it is for the public, Mr. Folk, does that constitute a prize fight, and does the prize make it a felony?"

"It does," replied Mr. Folk.

President Hawes said:

"It is a prize fight because of the prize offered, and because of the sale of tickets and because the club is not a bona fide club and is a mere make-shift."

"That describes it," replied Mr. Folk.

President Hawes then asked:

"Charles H. Haughton to say anything desired."

HAUGHTON EXPLAINS.
Mr. Haughton arose and smilingly made his bow to the commissioners.

"These gentlemen, Mr. Corbett and Mr. Sullivan, have been secured by me to give a sparring exhibition," said Mr. Haughton. "They will be paid a certain sum. There is no prize. I will pay each of them a certain sum for giving a sparring exhibition before the West End Club. No matter what happens they will get a certain sum. They will get the sum win or lose. It is not sparring for a trophy. It is more for the title than for the money."

"How about the $500?" interjected Mr. Folk.

"Well, Mr. Folk, you are right. I pay them $500. Each man will get $250, win or lose. It is simply because they are to give a scientific exhibition. That is the reason for employing them. Sparring is their business."

President Hawes asked:

"Is a prize of $500 to go to the one who wins?"

"I have just said that that was not a case."

"But Mr. Haughton, I want a direct answer to my question."

PURSE TO BE DIVIDED.
"Well, then," replied Mr. Haughton, "I will give you a direct answer. No. I will word of honor. There is no thought of giving anyone $500 for winning. It is $250 for each man, win or lose."

"How do you account for the advertisements all over town?" inquired Mr. Folk, "advertising that the sum of $500 is to be given to the winner?"

"If any such advertisement has appeared I am not responsible for it," was Mr. Haughton's reply. "I am not responsible for all that appears in the newspapers. They print lots of statements that are not quite right. They print them on their own say-so."

"Have you stated to anyone that these men were to fight for the $500?" inquired Mr. Folk.

"No, I have not."

"Who comprises the West End Club?" asked Mr. Folk with a smile.

"Well, and Mr. Haughton, please, smile and wipe an accumulation of perspiration from his brow. I am the president of the club. I have full membership and a membership of about 300."

"How about selling tickets? Are any tickets sold?" inquired Mr. Folk.

"Now, don't you know as a matter of fact tickets have been sold?" inquired Mr. Folk.

"No."

"Well, then explain your methods." "A man pays $1 and that makes him a member. Then he pays for what he gets after that. If he wants to see the contest, he pays for the seat. The same as if he wants to patronize the bar or cafe. His membership gives him entire to the club."

MEMBERS OF THE CLUB.
"How can you tell who are members?" "We have a list of members arranged alphabetically, and the ticket seller can tell by referring to this list if the applicant is a member. This list is three or four years old."
